Tremendous Vote Is Being
Cast In City And County
Today

RUSH TO POLLS IS BEGUN EARLY

Hundreds Had Cast Ballots
Within Hour After Polls

Political history is being made in New Castle and Lawrence County today.
The most tremendous vote
ever recorded in the history of the county is being polled and the totals tonight will show the most representative election, insofar as the number of votes is concerned, ever held here.

Not even the rush of 1928 can be compared to the ballot boxes today.
At most of the poll's long lines were waiting for the booths to open. Most of the poll's had over 100 voters in the first hour which in itself is a record. As the morning wore on the crowds increased and the polls were handling an average of two per minute.

Boards Busy

There was no early morning lull for the election boards. They started to work at seven o'clock and they were taxed up to keep up with the waves of voters that surged through.

At ten-thirty the average second ward precinct vote was 250. In the first of the eighth, 350 had voted at that time and the line was strung out along the Solita street five house. The first of the fifth had 325 at ten-thirty, and other precincts were proportionately as heavy.

Even the upper precincts of the fourth ward, where the vote doesn't get started much until after lunch, were turning them out. At ten-thirty, the fifth of the fourth had cast 275 votes, the fourth of the Voting was held up considerably at the Second precinct of the Third ward by some poor supplies furnished. There was but an eighth of an inch of ink in the bottom of the ink well, and voters had to dip in again after every second letter.

New Castle voters lost no time in getting to the polls this morning, and a record vote is indicated in every precinct by the way the people were getting out. In many of the precincts there was a long line of voters ready when the polls opened at 7 o'clock.

Central streams were observed
last evening getting the station house ready for the voters. It was necessary to push the old Knox truck about by man-power and maneuver it into a position out of the way, so the voting booths could be set up.

The West Washington street bridge over the Shenango river, transformed into its original width, will probably be open to traffic on Thursday morning or afternoon. Pa News was informed today. The solid concrete abutments at both ends of the bridge were being torn out today and the workers were ready to begin pouring the spans' center surface.

TALAVERA DE LA REINA, Spain, Nov. 3.—While America decided her political fate by ballots, Spain hammered her dostiny home today with the first shells of the White army to fall in the city of Madrid.

The Madrid government itself in an official communiqué admitted fighting was under way near Getafe and Cerro De Los Angeles, where it was announced, "the insurgents are concentrating all their efforts with a view to encircling the capital."

Batteries of six-inch guns station-

farthest advance post of General Francisco Franco's victorious army just beyond the villages of Pinto and Fuenlabrada, dropped high explosives within the Madrid suburbs and thereby reminded its citizens that the end of the Red resistance is at final days of this campaign many people have almost forgotten the

Monday Eve

BODY IS BADLY CRUSHED BY CAR

Fred Means, aged 48, of the Hog Hollow road, R. F. D. No. 1, Wampum, was found dying on the Hog Hollow road, about an eighth of a mile off the New Castle-West Pittsburgh road, at 8:15 Monday evening, by Fred C. Loppy, of 700 North Cedar street. He succumbed a few minutes afterwards, his body having been literally crushed by the vehicle which struck him.

Loppy came upon the body,
sprawled at one side of the road,
and summoned Constable Walter Bannon of West Pittsburgh, who in turn notified Coronor Orville Pollard and Highway Patrolman Alexander, who are conducting an investigation.

Means' body seemed to have been rolled under the car as there was evidence on the highway that the body had been dragged beneath the machine which struck him. He suffered a fractured skull, broken neck, right shoulder, right arm, right hip, and right leg, and the ribs were torn loose on the right side.

Means was born in Shenango township, November 28, 1887, and would have been 49 years of age this month. He served overseas with a medical detachment during the World War.

Steam Schooner Operators

Start Polling Members On Whether To Re- sume Parley

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The most promising development for peace in the west coast waterfront strike of 37,000 men occurred here today when seven schooner operators began polling their full association membership on whether negotiations should be resumed with the masters, mates and pilots union.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor who has been striving toward this end since mid-September, when the general
walkout of maritime workers in Pacific ports was called, considered the development highly significant.

Steam schooner operators had reached tentative agreements with six of the seven west coast maritime unions before the strike was ordered.

The masters, mates and pilots union was the lone dissenting group, demanding a $5 per month wage increase.

KING OPENS PARLIAMENT

Reads Longest
Regal Speech

Announces He Will Make
Visit To India After
Coronation Ceremony

BRILLIANT SCENE
MARKS OCCASION

BY CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 3.—Setting
forth an extensive program of domestic legislation and European "appeasement," King Edward VIII today opened in state
the first parliament of his reign
with the announcement that he will visit India after his coronation in May.

A slight figure on a solitary throne in the House of Lords, the king read one of the longest regal
speeches in years to a brilliant assembly of peers and commoners.

Calls Empire Conference.

He also announced that an important empire conference, similar to the Ottawa meeting several years ago, would be held in May.

The foreign policy of my government will continue to be based on membership in the League of Nations," King Edward said. "My government will continue to do all in its power to further the appearance of Europe."

Reaffirming Britain's determination to support non-intervention in Spain, he added: "My ministers will continue to take every opportunity to mitigate human suffering and loss of life in that unhappy country."

The glittering scene in the House of Lords contrasted with the disappointing rainfall that resulted in cancellation of the state drive from Buckingham Palace. The ushers had lined the streets for a glimpse of the king in his ancient coach, but the gloomy downpour forced him to go by motor car.

Brilliant Scene

Wearing a naval uniform and a blue cloak, Edward drove past Marlborough House, waving to Queen
Mary, who stood in window.

Amid the clanking of swords, he was ushered dramatically into the House of Lords as the chandeliers flared up brightly, revealing a dazzling background of brilliant uniformed diplomats, peers in scarlet and crimson robes, pretresses in fastionable gowns and dazzling jewels.

It was the first time in many years that an English monarch had no consort at his side at this ceremony, and the first time in 26 years that the reigning king appeared before the lords and commons at a state opening without his crown on his head.

mayor previously has given the governor all his campaign hats.

After voting, the governor and his family planned to go to the Booth Hotel. An early afternoon luncheon had been arranged for them by the Landon Business Women's league and other Landon workers.

They plan to start back for Topeka at 1 p.m., arriving around 5
p.m., when the returns will be rolling in from the east.

To Receive Returns At Topeka.

The governor plans to receive the early returns at the state house.
Later he will repair to the executive mansion where he has invited political writers, photographers, newsmen and radio men to join him during the exciting hours after 8 p.m.

His Last Message to the Nation.

Governor Landon appealed to the voters to preserve "the American form of government" as he has from the day of his nomination. He expressed confidence that they would preserve this form of government.

It Is the Basic Principle of the American form of government that so long as our citizens understand the issues that are before them, their decision will be the right decision," he said.

I am confident that the people under the issues before them in this election, I am confident that they will go to the polls united in one aim—to vote as Americans for the future of America.

"And after we have cast our vote let us be resolved to take up the task that lies before us, not as farmers, not as workers in industry, nor as workers on relief, but as Americans, determined to hold this nation united in the future as in the past—determined to keep it moving forward along the path of greatness
—determined to keep it free.

'Live and Let Live; Live and Help Live.' These are the simple principles of a united people.

"We face tomorrow a grave responsibility. This responsibility is not only to our own well-being in the years just ahead. It is a responsibility to a world which stands at a parting of the ways. The world needs a free America. We must hold the line on democracy. We dare not fall."

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Samuel Lewis

Months of suffering came to an end
Monday afternoon, Nov. 2, when Mrs. Mary Jones Lewis, 52, wife of Samuel Lewis of 407 Garfield avenue, died at approximately 4:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lewis had suffered with ill health for a number of years and in the past two years had been in almost constant pain.

Mrs. Lewis was born in Penlanddave, South Wales, December 22, 1883, the daughter of Llewelyn and Hanna Evans Jones. As a very young girl she came to the United States with her parents, her father being one of the pioneer oil plate-men in this country. For many years he was the superintendent of the tin house for the American Sheet and Tin Plate company here.

Music was always a part of Mrs. Lewis' life. From her father she inherited the gift of song and in her younger days and while her health was not affected, she was active in musical circles. She was many times a winner in the eisteddfods which were once a feature in New Castle. By nature she was gentle and kindly, but those who knew her intimately knew her sterngilities.

In 1900 she was married to Samuel Lewis. Three children survive her, a daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Crow of Shenango township, and two sons, William H. Lewis of New Castle and Llewelyn J. Lewis of New Bedford. She is also survived by a son, Robert L. Lewis, a former employee of the Toledo Journal.

Having endorsed but 204 candidates, the Townsmen apparently will control the house, but leader of the old-age pension organization predicted that a smashing victory would enable the administration to carry to its plan of 200 a month pensions for all over 65.

The "Jasmine bloc" of the house, with one exception, fought for victory at the polls. The candidates included Rep. Florence Kahn (R) of California, Virginia Jones (D) of Indiana, Edith Nourse Rogers (R) of Massachusetts, Mary T. Norton (D) of New Jersey and Caroline O'Day of New York.

While Mrs. Isabell Greenwar, a bridesmaid at the wedding of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, retired, another bridesmaid, Nancy Wood Haenman, sought election in the Portland, Oregon district.

The next house is certain to include one Negro since Rep. Arthur Mitchell (D) of Illinois, only member of the race in the house, is opposed by Oscar DePriest, also a Negro. Charles A. Boxer, Negro Republican, is seeking election in the first Michigan district in Detroit.

Announces He Will Make
Visit To India After
Coronation Ceremony

BRILLIANT SCENE
MARKS OCCASION

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service
Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Nov. 3.—Setting
forth an extensive program of domestic legislation and European
"appeasement," King Edward VIII today opened in state
the first parliament of his reign
with the announcement that he will visit India after his coronation in May.

A slight figure on a solitary
throne in the House of Lords, the
king read one of the longest regal
speeches in years to a brilliant assembly of peers and commons.

Calls Empire Conference

He also announced that an important empire conference, similar to the Ottawa meeting several years ago, would be held in May.

"The foreign policy of my government will continue to be based on membership in the League of Nations," King Edward said. "My government will continue to do all in its power to further the appeasement of Europe."

Reaffirming Britain's determination to support non-intervention in Spain, he added: "My ministers will continue to take every opportunity to mitigate human suffering and loss of life in that unhappy country."

The glittering scene in the House of Lords contrasted with the disappointing rainfall that resulted in cancellation of the state drive from Buckingham Palace. Thousands had lined the streets for a glimpse of the king in his ancient coach, but the gloomy downpour forced him to go by motor car.

Brilliant Scene

Wearing a naval uniform and a blue cloak, Edward drove past Marlborough House, waving at Queen Mary, who stood in a window.

Amid the clanking of swords, he was ushered dramatically into the House of Lords as the chandeliers flared up brightly, revealing a dazzling background of brilliant uniformed diplomats, peers in scarlet and crimson robes, peeresses in fashional gowns and flashing jewels.

It was the first time in many years that an English monarch had no consort at his side at this ceremony, and the first time in 26 years that the reigning king appeared before the lords and commons at a state opening without his crown on his head.

In County Also

The country districts reflected the intense interest in the election. At eight o'clock this morning New Wellington had voted over 100, and even the outlying rural precincts were far beyond their usual figures.

What the immense vote means nobody can even guess. If the rush marked only districts, it might mean a landslide for either party, depending upon where the vote was heaviest. At it is, all the districts, whether considered Republican or Democratic in their leanings are turning out to vote in unheard of numbers.

Not Long Ballot

Fortunately for the election boards the ballot will not be difficult to count. Had the electors of the parties been on the ballot the boards would be at work Wednesday afternoon. They are not on the ballot which means that the boards are spared the necessity of counting sets of 36 names on each ballot.

Out of today's rush to vote will undoubtedly come a demand for a division of some of the precincts. Between 400 and 500 is considered enough votes for one board to handle. In many of the precincts they will be handling twice that many.

Correct this sentence. "I got out of politics," said the man, "and found a job where advancement doesn't depend on pull."

Victory Is Here Declares Hamilton

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—"Victory is here," John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, declared today.

The Republican chairman revealed today that his prediction that Gov. Landon and Col. Knox will receive an "absolute minimum" of 320 electoral votes in today's balloting has been called too conservative by Republican leaders throughout the country.

"I never have witnessed a campaign in which the rising tide of protest against the party in power continued to sweep on and on at such a late hour," he added.

fourth had well over 200. It is a safe guess to say that noon today there had been over 10,000 votes cast in the city, something never seen before in elections here.

WHITE ARMY SHELLS DROP INTO MADRID

White airplanes dropped over a million tiny handbills notifying the population further fighting is useless.

"This is the beginning of the last weeks of Red rule," they read. "You had better understand that surrender will bring peace."

Also at the same time, ferocious aerial warfare continued and became steadily worse as Madrid's Russian planes came into play.

One of them came to Talavera, was attacked by two White fighters and downed in flames. Its two pilots attempted to save themselves by bailing out but their parachutes failed and they crashed.

Further mass bombing by Madrid's planes was expected hourly in principal cities in White territory.

form of government that has brought us a spiritual and material well-being, that is the envy of the world," he said. "Let us go resolved that the American way of life shall not, cannot fail."

The governor and his household went to the polling place, a plain little auto salesroom, about two blocks from the white frame house which has been the Landon home for the last 32 years.

Expected Record Vote.

Despite the chilly weather which settled over Kansas in the last 24 hours, a record vote was expected from the 15,000 residents of the governor's home town. There was high excitement and playing of bands and parades and a festive air almost from daylight.

Mayor Ralph Mitchell announced that he already has on hand a silk hat for Governor Landon for his inauguration as president. The mayor previously had given the governor all his campaign hats.

After voting, the governor and his family planned to go to the Booth hotel. An early afternoon luncheon has been arranged for them by the Landon Business Women's league and other Landon workers.

They plan to start back for Topeka at 1 p.m., arriving around 5 p.m., when the returns will be rolling in from the east.

Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery. The body will lie in the home at 407 East Garfield avenue until noon Thursday when it will be removed to the funeral home.

Mr. Lever was born in Tredgar, Wales, on August 18, 1854, son of Charles and Sara Lever. Greenway had been his home for over 50 years and for much of that time he was employed at a puddler in the Kimberly Mills.

A. Bowser, of Greenville, and Sara, at home, eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Jesse B. Rodgers.

Mr. Rodgers was a highly respected citizen of the community and had a great many friends. He had been in his usual health until last Friday morning when he was taken suddenly ill by what is believed to have been an apoplectic stroke.

Two years ago he and his wife, Emma Patterson Rodgers, who survives, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. In addition to his wife he leaves three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Clarke of Boyles avenue, New Castle; Mrs. J. M. Rodgers of Grove City and Mrs. Cline McCaskay of Warren, O. There are also several aeronauts and nephews.

SHENANGO CHAPTER
AMATEUR PROGRAM

The East Lodge room of the Cathedral was the scene of an interesting and entertaining program Monday evening, when members of Shenango No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, presented before an appreciative audience of approximately 150, an amateur program in observance of the chapter's Educational Loan Fund project.

Mrs. Edwin Cowles, as chairman of the entertainment, introduced Miss Billie E. Glenn as mistress of ceremonies who introduced the participants.

Special recognition was given Miss Eva Coulter who presented the "Coulter All Star Ensemble" as guest artists. This group of musicians had progressed exceedingly well under Miss Coulter's direction, and they delighted the audience with two selections. Those taking part in the ensemble were: piano, Miss Coulter; violin, Arvo Aho; violin; xylophones, Ruth Phillips; Jaz Fisher; Doretha Stewart and Tom McFale; Billie E. Glenn, director and trumpet player. Another orchestra under Miss Coulter's supervision known as the Aiken-Thaddeus Stevens school group, also contributed a number.

Others taking part were: Gilbert Cox, Jr., piano solo; Marilyn Cultright, speech; Junior Berkheimer, piano solo; Betty Cottwright, speech; Gerald Ward, song; Hugh Hemphill, song; Bobby Manning, harmonica solo. The second part of the program included dance and song numbers given by a few of Miss Glenn's students. They were Vivian and Dorothy Pitzer, waltz; Joan Martin, song and dance; Martha Ann Whiston, tap solo; Helen Ross, rhythm tap; Mary Acela and Jean Linneell, song and tap duo; Mary Alice Palls, song and tap dance; Harriet Walker, military tap; Mae Stoenila, song; Donna Jean Cox, tap and aerobatic numbers; Loretta and Leota Pfeffer, tap duo; Rosemary Flack, acrobatic specialty; Billie E. Woman's Club Hears Lake Erie College Professor

Rex M. Johnson, professor of Economics and Sociology at Lake Erie college, addressed the Woman's club at its bi-monthly meeting Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church.

His subject, "The Status of Women Under Communism and Fascism," was developed in an instructive and unbiased manner. Said Professor Johnson, "Our country is going through a period of transition." This trend began approximately 15 years ago and will probably continue for another 15 or 20 years. It is well for women to study the status of their sisters under different forms of government, that they may better cope with the problems which will effect their own positions.

"Under Communism, woman's position tends towards equality with men. Functions of the home become socialized, freeing women from their traditional responsibilities and making possible their entrance into the fields of industry, trade, agriculture and education."

"They are economically independent, but must compete with men on the same footing. The emphasis is on the individual, rather than on the home."

"In contrast," stated the speaker, "the Fascistic form of government places the emphasis on the home and woman's place within its four walls. The importance to the state of the raising of large families is stressed. Women are excluded from many lines of work."

"Education for women has become less academic. They are taught to supplement men in a man's state."

Professor Johnson was introduced by Mrs. James L. Vogar, chairman of the Department of Education, which was responsible for Monday's program. Hostesses were Mrs. D. L. Ferguson and Mrs. W. D. Jones.

Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, club president, conducted the business meeting which was opened with a salute to the flag led by three Girl Scouts, Carol Henderson, Nancy Strangier and Dorothy Burton.

Following are departmental announcements made: Fine Arts will meet November 9, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Berry, Hazelcroft avenue; Conservation department, November 18, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Shaffer, Euclid avenue; Department of International Relations, November 23, Mrs. J. McElvane, Leavenworth avenue.

The next meeting of the Woman's club is scheduled for November 16, in Highland church, with the Department of Legislation supervising the program.

The affair was featured with a full course dinner, served in the dining room at tables attractively appointed in seasonal suggestions. Plates marked for approximately 500.

Immediately following, Mrs. Randles was introduced, and she gave an inspiring and interesting talk on "Our Thank Offering" which was well received. A short business period concluded the informal program.

Woman's Club Hears Lake Erie College Professor

Rex M. Johnson, professor of Economics and Sociology at Lake Erie college, addressed the Woman's club at its bi-monthly meeting Monday afternoon in Highland U. P. church.

His subject, "The Status of Women Under Communism and Fascism," was developed in an instructive and unbiased manner. Said Professor Johnson, "Our country is going through a period of transition."

"This trend began approximately 15 years ago and will probably continue for another 15 or 20 years. It is well for women to study the status of their sisters under different forms of government, that they may better cope with the problems which will effect their own positions."

"Under Communism, woman's position tends towards equality with men. Functions of the home become socialized, freeing women from their traditional responsibilities and making possible their entrance into the fields of industry, trade, agriculture and education."

"They are economically independent, but must compete with men on the same footing. The emphasis is on the individual, rather than on the home."

"In contrast," stated the speaker, "the Fascist form of government, places the emphasis on the home and woman's place within its four walls. The importance to the state of the raising of large families is stressed. Women are excluded from many lines of work."

"Education for women has become less academic. They are taught to supplement men in a man's state."

Professor Johnson was introduced by Mrs. James L. Vogan, chairman of the Department of Education, which was responsible for Monday's program. Hostesses were Mrs. D. L. Ferguson and Mrs. W. D. Jones.

Mrs. Harry L. Gormley, club president, conducted the business meeting which was opened with a salute to the flag led by three Girl Scouts, Carol Henderson, Nancy Stitzinger and Dorothy Burton.

Following are departmental announcements made:

Fine Arts will meet November 9, at the home of Mrs. J. G. Berry, Hazelcroft avenue; Conservation department, November 18, at the home of Mrs. T. M. Shaffer, Euclid avenue; Department of International Relations, November 23, Mrs. J. McIlvaine, Leisure avenue.

The next meeting of the Woman's club is scheduled for November 16, in Highland church, with the Department of Legislation supervising the program.

MRS. A. J. RANDLES
ADDRESSES SOCIETIES

Mrs. A. J. Randles, wife of the former pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, was guest speaker Monday evening at the annual assembly of four missionary societies at the church, including the Gleaners, the Woman's of the Kite Hill and the Macedonian groups.

The affair was featured with a full course dinner, served in the dining room at tables attractively appointed in seasonal suggestions. Places marked for approximately sixty.

Immediately following, Mrs. Randles was introduced, and she gave an inspiring and interesting talk on "Our Thank Offering" which was well received. A short business period concluded the informal program.

CIRCLE OF '91
STUDIES ROME

Mrs. Roy M. Jamison, first vice president, was in the chair for the Circle of '91 meeting Monday afternoon in the absence of the president, Mrs. C. H. Martin.

The assembly was held in the Boyles avenue home of Mrs. J. P. Caldwell, with a dozen and one members answering roll call by giving quotations from "Julius Caesar".

"Ancient Rome" was the study topic, Mrs. W. Marshall speaking on the following three phases: The Early Latin Tribes, The Legend of Romulus and Remus, The Roman Republic Emerges.

Mrs. S. M. Matheny also divided her part of the subject into three phases, discussing Roman Politicians and Statesmen, Finance in Republican Rome, The Collapse of Republicanism.

A general discussion on a comparison of the Roman republic with a modern state; why did the first great experiment in self-government fail? was led by Mrs. R. M. Jamison, Mrs. Roy A. Long and Mrs. C. Parker.

It was also decided to have a card and bingo party on Monday evening, November 16.

At the close of the evening, lunch was served by the committee in charge.

New Idea Club

Mrs. Clyde Burkholder of Court street, was hostess Monday evening to the New Idea club members, and one special guest, Mrs. James DeVore. Two tables of bridge were in play, prizes falling to Esther Reynolds and Mrs. George Mattocks.

In serving lunch, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. DeVore. The small tables were cleverly arranged in a color theme of pink and green, and the tasty lunch was enjoyed by candle light.

Their next meeting on Tuesday, December 1, will be with Helen Clark on North Mulberry street. This will take the form of a Yuletide party.

HUNTING AS A SPORT

IT IS interesting to learn that more than 13,000,000 persons in this country are sufficiently interested to spend nearly $75,000,000 annually for hunting and fishing in the United States.

Of this number the great majority are hunters. The vanguard of this army has already taken to the woods and the brush in search of game, with the main body getting ready for the November shooting.

The one unfortunate side of this popular autumn open-air recreation is the casualty list that invariably attends it. Bullets and shotgun charges find human targets far too frequently for the peace of mind of those who hunt and those who remain at home.

If hunting were at all times considered purely a sport, there is every probability that we would not have such a long list of killed and wounded. But there has developed on the part of many hunters an unwholesome affection for a filled game bag. Too many are concerned with the size of the kill instead of the sport they enjoy. This leads to much promiscuous firing. The result is to shoot first and look afterward. The result is too many human targets.

Hunting is the sport of red-blooded men. And if it is always considered a sport the dangers surrounding it will be minimized. So forget the size of the kill and enjoy the trip as true sportsmen do in these autumn days.

PARENTS NEED TEACHING

If human beings would make use of the knowledge available to them in rearing their young, a race of giants, physically and mentally, might be produced within a few generations. That is an opinion recently expressed by two of the nation's leading baby specialists.

Recent achievements of science in isolating vitamins and determining their action in preventing disease should result in better general health, better teeth and general freedom from what are called degenerative diseases, says Dr. Russell Alpenstein, nutrition specialist. The late Dr. A. M. Mendelsohn, of Indiana University, concurred in this opinion, but made this important comment: "I fear there are relatively few babies receiving all that is available in proper baby care."

What seems most to be needed is better distribution of the surplus of good food and wider teaching of knowledge concerning the duties and responsibilities of parenthood.

MORE ABUNDANT LIFE

All sorts of news comes from Washington and some of it is good. In particular there's an item about holiday turkeys. It tells an anxious nation that 20,000,000 birds are on hand to carry us through from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day. Last year there were only 15,000,000. This means, of course, that the well-known festive board will be required to beat up under the added burden of 5,000,000 extra turkeys.

Come what may in the way of election results, wars, weather and taxes, the prospect is filled with bright promise, with 20,000,000 turkeys available for consumption, even though the birds are reported as being somewhat younger and lighter than a year ago. Even now, a contemplation of the future provides reason for delightful anticipation.

A turkey in the pan, just beginning to assume a golden brown, his breast abutte with chestnut dressing and his shanks standing sentinel on either side, the aroma floating through the house, and finally the great moment when the bird, done to a turn, takes his place on the table for the fulfillment of his destiny.

This, ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, is a prospect to warm the heart. It is something to look forward to as the leaves fall, the sun ascends higher in the heavens and the nights grow long and the days cold.

SUBSIDIZED AIRSHIPS

It may be said that this year's trans-Atlantic flights of the German airship, the Hindenburg, were in the nature of experiments and demonstrations. They have also been strong arguments in favor of commercial airship transportation.

Unless international agreements can be made on a scheduled and regular airship service between the United States and Europe there may not be many more visits by the Hindenburg. Only by special and temporary permit has the great airship been allowed to land here and use the facilities of Lakehurst.

A project for creating a German-American zeppelin service has been worked out in detail and discussed between Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, the world's foremost authority on airship construction and operation. Most interesting are the difficulties which lie in the way of the realization. There must be treaties drawn, at a time when treaties are not easily made between this country and the nations of Europe. Congress must agree to pay part of the cost of constructing two American airships and a substantial subsidy on their operation. This involves the extension of the recent Merchant Marine Act to cover lighter-than-air craft engaged in foreign commerce.

Granted that these things can be done, it is said that American capital is ready to back a regular airship service to Europe, with weekly sailings from both sides of the Atlantic. But in the meantime powerful airplane interests are bidding for the same business. The successful flights of the Hindenburg have shown that airships can carry passengers, freight and mail over the ocean, but it may be some time before they are doing so to any considerable commercial extent.

How modest we are! When we say that a government policy will help everybody, we mean it will help us.

You, also, can earn $50,000 a year. Merely prove to some corporation that you can make a $5,000,000 a year.

Hallowe'en Is Old.
The Souls Of Oysters.
Polly Has A Tombstone.
Germany's Good Cannon.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

YOU CELEBRATED an old festival, if you bobbed for apples or looked in the glass to see your future husband last Saturday. Hallowe'en, which Christians call "All Saints' Day," is older by many centuries than Christianity.

It is one of the festivals carried over from paganism, because primitive peoples converted to a new religion still cling to their old celebrations and pleasures.

AT THIS SEASON the Druids lighted fires to please their sun-god, who had given the good harvest. They believed that Samian "Lord of Death" on Hallowe'en called together the wicked souls condemned during the past year, and locked them up in bodies of animals.

Ghosts and witches were unusually plentiful at Hallowe'en; the numerous bonfires were perhaps lighted to frighten them away.

Into the ashes of such fires the Scotch and Welsh threw small stones, one for every person present. If a stone was missing next morning, he or she who had thrown it would not live to see another Hallowe'en.

MR. KOKICHI MIKIMOTO, able Japanese gentleman, once a peddler of noodles, is now gigantically rich, thanks to his oyster pearl idea. He makes real pearls by forcing the oyster to work at pearl production.

Instead of diving for oysters, hoping to find one with a pearl in it, he puts little, irritating grains of sand inside the shells of millions of oysters and each oyster proceeds to deposit the pearly substance on the sand to escape its irritating, scratching.

THESE PEARLS are "real," although experts can tell the difference. They annoy jewelers and have hurt the value of the other incidental pearls but they make it unnecessary for the unfortunate pearl diver to "go all naked to the hungry sharks," as the poet has it.

Mr. Mikimoto has been obliged to kill hundreds of millions of oysters, which is serious; his Buddhist religion teaches that each has its little separate soul—in fact the soul of his great-grandmother might have resided in one of the oysters.

Impelled by sense of justice and desire not to be hated by so many millions of oyster souls, the pearl king last week employed priests of the Buddhist Jodo sect to hold elaborate memorial services in memory of all those oysters, thus assaying their anger at being butchered so cruelly, and comforting them.

After that, methodical Mr. Mikimoto held an elaborate rehearsal of his own funeral, forty-two relatives attending, as our "upper classes" hold wedding rehearsals.

YOU MAY smile at the idea of oysters having souls, but some 10-inch Long Lyndhaven female oyster might ask:

"Why should you have a soul and not I? Do I not live, eat, breathe? What are you, but a two-legged microbe, living on a grain of sand called the earth.

"Are you aware that I produce not mere quintuplets, but millions of young oysters every year? How do you know that the Ruler of the universe confers souls only on creatures like you that butcher each other in war, and practice birth control?"

THE TORONTO "birth derby" ends in a sextuple tie, six mothers having each produced nine babies in ten years. They, presumably, will divide the half million dollars left by a "philanthropist" to the mother having the greatest number of children in ten years following his death.

HUNTING AS A SPORT

IT IS interesting to learn that more than 13,000,000 persons in this country are sufficiently interested to spend nearly $750,000,000 annually for hunting and fishing in the United States.

Of this number the great majority are hunters. The vanguard of this army has already taken to the woods and the brush in search of game, with the main body getting ready for the November shooting.

The one unfortunate side of this popular autumn open-air recreation is the casualty list that invariably attends it. Bullets and shotgun charges find human targets far too frequently for the peace of mind of those who hunt and those who remain at home.

If hunting were at all times considered purely a sport, there is every probability that we would not have such a long list of killed and wounded. But there has developed on the part of many hunters an unholy affection for a filled game bag. Too many are concerned with the size of the kill instead of the sport they enjoy. This leads to much promiscuous firing. The growing inclination is to shoot first and look afterward. The result is too many human targets.

Hunting is the sport of red-blooded men. And if it is always considered a sport the dangers surrounding it will be minimized. So forget the size of the kill and enjoy the trip as true sportsmen do in these autumn days.

If human beings would make use of the knowledge available to them in rearing their young, a race of giants, physically and mentally, might be produced within a few generations. That is an opinion recently expressed by two of the nation's leading baby specialists.

Recent achievements of science in isolating vitamins and determining their action in preventing disease should result in better general health, better teeth and general freedom from what are called degenerative diseases, says Dr. Russell Hirschstein, nutrition specialist. The late Dr. A. M. Mendenhall, of Indiana University, concurred in this opinion, but made this important comment: "I fear there are relatively few babies receiving all that is available in proper baby care."

What seems most to be needed is better distribution of the surplus of good food and wider teaching of knowledge concerning the duties and responsibilities of parenthood.

MORE ABUNDANT LIFE

All sorts of news comes from Washington and some of it is good. In particular there's an item about holiday turkeys. It tells an anxious nation that 20,000,000 birds are on hand to carry us through from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day. Last year there were only 15,000,000. This means, of course, that the well-known festive board will be required to bear up under the added burden of 5,000,000 extra turkeys.

Come what may in the way of election results, wars, weather and taxes, the prospect is filled with bright promise with 20,000,000 turkeys for consumption, even though the birds are reported as being somewhat younger and lighter than a year ago. Even now, a contemplation of the future provides reason for delightful anticipation.

A turkey in the pan, just beginning to assume a golden brown, his breast abulge with chestnut dressing and his shanks standing sentinel on either side, the aroma floating through the house, and finally the great moment when the bird, done to a turn, takes his place on the table for the fulfillment of his destiny.

This, ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, is a prospect to warm the heart. It is something to look forward to as the leaves fall, the sun's ascends higher in the heavens and the nights grow long and the days cold.

SUBSIDIZED AIRSHIPS

It may be said that this year's trans-Atlantic flights of the German airship, the Hindenburg, were in the nature of experiments and demonstrations. They have also been strong arguments in favor of commercial airship transportation.

Unless international agreements can be made on a scheduled and regular airship service between the United States and Europe there may not be many more visits by the Hindenburg. Only by special and temporary permit has the great airship been allowed to land here and use the facilities of Lakehurst.

A project for creating a German-American zeppelin service has been worked out in detail and discussed between Daniel C. Roper, secretary of commerce, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, the world's foremost authority on airship construction and operation. Most interesting are the difficulties which lie in the way of its realization. There must be treaties drawn, at a time when treaties are not easily made between this country and the nations of Europe. Congress must agree to pay part of the cost of constructing two American airships and a substantial subsidy on their operation. This involves the extension of the recent Merchant Marine Act to cover lighter-than-air craft engaged in foreign commerce.

Granted that these things can be done, it is said that American capital is ready to back a regular airship service to Europe, with weekly sailings from both sides of the Atlantic. But in the meantime powerful airplane interests are bidding for the same business. The successful flights of the Hindenburg have shown that airships can carry passengers, freight and mail over the ocean, but it may be some time before they are doing so to any considerable commercial extent.

Hallowe'en Is Old.
The Souls Of Oysters.
Polly Has A Tombstone.
Germany's Good Cannon.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

YOU CELEBRATED an old festival, if you bobbed for apples or looked in the glass to see your future husband, last Saturday. Hallowe'en, which Christians call "All Saints' Day," is older by many centuries than Christianity.

It is one of the festivals carried over from paganism, because primitive peoples converted to a new religion still clung to their old celebrations and pleasures.

AT THIS SEASON the Druids lighted fires to please their sun-god, who had given the good harvest. They believed that Saman, "Lord of Death" on Hallowe'en called together the wicked souls condemned during the past year, and locked them up in bodies of animals.

Ghosts and witches were unusually plentiful at Hallowe'en; the numerous bonfires were perhaps lighted to frighten them away.

Into the ashes of such fires the Scotch and Welsh threw small stones, one for every person present. If a stone was missing next morning, he or she who had thrown it in would not live to see another Hallowe'en.

MR. KOKICHI MIKIMOTO, able Japanese gentleman, once a peddler of noodles, now is gigantic rich, thanks to his oyster pearl idea. He makes real pearls by forcing the oyster to work at pearl production.

Instead of diving for oysters, hoping to find one with a pearl in it, he puts little, irritating grains of sand inside the shells of millions of oysters and each oyster proceeds to deposit the pearly substance on the sand to escape its irritating, scratching.

THESE PEARLS are "real," although experts can tell the difference. They annoy jewelers and have hurt the value of the other accidental pearls but they make it unnecessary for the unfortunate pearl diver to "go all naked to the hungry sharks" as the poet has it.

Mr. Mikimoto has been obliged to kill hundreds of millions of oysters, which is serious; his Buddhist religion teaches that each has its little separate soul—in fact the soul of his great-grandmother might have resided in one of the oysters.

Impelled by sense of justice and a desire not to be hated by so many millions of oyster souls, the pearl king last week employed priests of the Buddhist Jodo sect to hold elaborate memorial services in memory of all those oysters, thus allaying their anger at being butchered so cruelly, and comforting them.

After that, methodical Mr. Mikimoto held an elaborate rehearsal of his own funeral, forty-two relatives attending, as our "upper classes" hold wedding rehearsals.

YOU MAY smile at the idea of oysters having souls, but some 10-inch Long Lyngiven female oyster might ask:

"Why should you have a soul and not I? Do I not live, eat, breathe? What are you, but a two-legged microbe, living on a grain of sand called the earth."

"Are you aware that I produce not mere quintuplets, but millions of young oysters every year? How do you know that the Ruler of the Universe confers souls only on creatures like you that butcher each other in war, and practice birth control?"

THE TORONTO "birth derby" ends in a sextuple tie, six mothers having each produced nine babies in ten years. They, presumably, will divide the half million dollars left by a "philanthropist" to the mother having the greatest number of children in ten years following his birth.

Another thing you don't see very often any more is a boy with his hands all stained up with walnut juice. The reason for this is the scarcity of walnuts.

HELPFUL HINTS

A teaspoon of lemon juice added to the rice while it is cooking will make it whiter and fluffier.

Avoid using too much water when making pastry.

Both apple and rhubarb combine readily with other fruit flavors.

A little baking soda in water in which hair brushes are washed will help cut out the dirt and grease.

When putting lace curtains on a flat rod stick knife in the end of the road and pull the curtain over the handle of the knife.

THE END of the race was sad; two mothers praying for a last minute "miracle" of premature birth were disappointed, and Blanche Timleck, 3 months old, needed by her mother in the contest, died just before the race ended, and was buried on the last day of the competition.

No Real Explanation Seems Available For Idleness In Boom Period

BELIEVE NEW INDUSTRY NEEDED

Central Press

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Governments reports show American business to be in pretty good shape again.

Some industries are operating on a scale equal to the boom period. A few industries even are doing a little better than that. Merchants are cheerful and predict a thumping holiday trade. Financial figures are favorable, too; less than 10 percent below 1929's.

Yet unemployment does not dwindle correspondingly, or anything like it.

LABOR-SAVING DEVICES?
Uncle Sam's economists try to explain this phenomenon in a fashion which does not explain it to me, at least. I do not believe it explains it to them, either. I think that they simply have to be as explanatory as they can, and do their best.

Their version is the same old thing.

Labor-saving machinery and increased managerial efficiency have resulted in so greatly enhanced a productivity per worker that there is not as large a demand for workers as there used to be.

reasoning, if we put all our workers to work we would have over-production again, as in the 1920's, culminating in the bursting of the boom.

Arguing from this premise (that we already have all we want of everything we know anything about) there are economists who contend that we cannot take up the full slack of unemployment until some new thing is invented, with an appeal equal to that of the automobile, for our now idle workers to work on.

Air conditioning is mentioned as such a development, as it grows in popularity, which may turn the trick.

INABILITY TO BUY

Now, I do not have to be an economist to know that we were not over-producing during the boom period.

At the very height of the boom there were plenty of things I wanted that I could not afford to buy. I will make an affidavit that millions of other folks were in my fix; in fact everyone except a mere handful of millionaires.

More than we wanted was not what was the matter with us. It was inability to pay for what we did want, and would have bought if we had had the wherewithal.

It is no original idea that lack of purchasing power on the public's part, rather than over-production, caused the popping of the boom. Nevertheless, it is a theory which economists are falling back on to account for the continuance of unemployment despite an apparent improvement in business times.

Some industries are operating on a scale equal to the boom period. A few industries even are doing a little better than that. Merchants are cheerful and predict a thumping holiday trade. Financial figures are favorable, too; less than 10 percent below 1929's.

Yet unemployment does not dwindle correspondingly, or anything like it.

INCOME TIED UP

And these new inventions, which we are supposed to need so badly to stimulate money's circulation?

They were numerous, leading up to the boom peak.

Moreover, they were expensive. The average individual could not pay cash for an auto, an electric refrigerator and washing machine and a dozen or so of other new-fangled gadgets; thus he was encouraged, almost coerced into buying them on the instalment plan.

It did not take him long at this rate to have his whole income tied up in instalment payments.

When he wanted to buy a much-needed suit of clothes, what had he left over?

Well, he could get that on the instalment plan, too.

CAN IN WORK?

However, such a budgetary system has its limits.

The boom exploded.

But today, with business reviving, an attempt is being made to revive the boom-time system also—among folk who are not actually on relief. Instalment salesmen call at my house every day. They may call on "believers" likewise, for all I know. This perhaps is the economists' notion of renewed prosperity.

I hate to be a pessimist.

The local tabernacle is making plans for the annual missionary convention which will be held November 29 to December 6 this year. This is two months earlier than it is generally held. Each year this service draws many to the church where large pledge offerings are given to the support of foreign missions. The speakers on this tour will be: Rev. F. Bertram Miller, of Beulah Beach, Ohio; Mrs. R. R. Moore, French West Africa; and Mrs. F. G. Grobb of French Indo-China.

This year may say for the late Polly Coddington, excellent conversationalist: If she ever said anything foolish, or improper, somebody taught her to say it.

A higher race thinks up foolish things for itself.

IN 1913 THE LATE Lord Northcliffe, a really great British editor, told this writer and many others that France had the world's best artillery. The war confirmed his statement, in spite of "Big Bertha."

Now Gen. Laur Malmberg, a Finnish authority on artillery, says after visiting Germany:

"Germany has the best artillery I have ever seen."

Scandinavians know a good deal about war; they proved it by their wisdom in keeping out of the big one. They prove it also when they do fight.

Charles the Twelfth of Sweden, with a handful of men, walked through the huge armies of Peter the Great, who remarked, modestly:

"My brother Charles is teaching me about war."

And as for the other fighting Swedes and great statesman King Gustavus Adolphus, he was a fighter to make our "big war" captains seem like babies playing soldiers.

FRANCE DECIDES that the line of powerful forts, that now separate her from Germany, the so-called "Maginot Line" shall be extended along the frontier separating France from Belgium, as far as the sea.

Belgium canceled her understanding with France, the latter says, "friend or enemy," and classes Belgium among her enemies. Who would have expected that, in the big war days?

John Audia, trading as the Superior Sand and Supply company, has issued a writ of attachment against Charles Benson, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due the defendant from Frederick John Taylor or J. E. Richardson. In satisfaction of a claim of plaintiff.

In the case of The Thayer company against the County of Lawrence, in which the defendant asked to have an amended statement of claim stricken from the record, and which was argued before Judge George Rowley of Mercer county, the court made an order granting a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why the petition should not be granted. Rule is returnable on November 11.

Sixty-nine instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 33 were deeds and 23 were mortgages. Nineteen of the mortgages were given to building and loan associations two to banks and two to individuals. By far the greatest number of mortgages being placed or recorded recently have been to building and loan associations.

Population of the county home has decreased during the past summer there being only about 130 inmates of the home at present. It is expected that the number will increase from now on until spring. During the summer months some of the inmates go to live with friends.

County commissioners will sit as a board of tax revision somewhat earlier this year, beginning on December 1, with Big Beaver, Hickory, Little Beaver and Mahoning townships. As the triennial assessments are being made this year, it is expected that the board will hear plenty of complaints.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Engineer Glenn R. Throop today certified to council completion of the paving of Englewood avenue between Highland avenue and Mercer street. He said the cost of material was $5,819.96 of which $5,883.76 is assessable. The city's share of cost was given as $250.20.

According to a ruling by William D. Cobau, city employee will not find it necessary to contribute part of their wages under the provisions of the Social Security law. However, firemen and police will receive pensions at a certain age. They contribute to those funds.

City council awarded contracts yesterday for the city's winter supply of coal. The coal must be delivered in the city bins. In years gone by the coal used by the city was furnished by different dealers. Under the new plan one firm will furnish two-inch screen and another firm provide the slack.

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, in reply to a question put by Councilman J. Leon Fink during council Monday said he had not yet secured any gasoline bids. Alexander said the city can take no action to change the present system until January, November and December gas already having been arranged for. It was suggested by Mayor Charles E. McGrath a few weeks ago that instead of the city buying large lots and storing the gas in pump tanks, that a saving might be effected if trucks and motor cars were to get their fuel at different service stations.

Council has not taken any action to award a contract for approximately $300 worth of incandescent lights. Should the company from whom the bulbs are to be purchased allow a discount the business will be divided among local firms handling their products.

Although a hot election is under way today politics have seldom been discussed in city hall. Persons cloaked with the protection of civil service are not permitted to mix in politics. However, it has not been necessary in city hall for any official to remind any employee of this.

Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, William G. Cobau, today stated that council has the option of appropriating either one-half or one per cent of all monies collected from taxes here for the police pension fund. When the 1937 budget was compiled council set aside about $2,200 to place in the fund. Police will make a contribution each month to the fund. Receipts, less expenses, from their Thanksgiving night, also will go into the fund. The pension system becomes effective in January.

Curb has been set back and rounded off at North and North Mill street. WPA workers now are working in North street west toward North Mercer street....Building permits for September show an estimated expenditure of $12,700....John Jones, assistant to Electrician Rex Hughes may remain on the job according to city hall indications.

Houk, D. G. Houk and Bertha Mary Houk Swipe. A bequest of $70 is made to the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church. J. M. Houk and D. G. Houk are named as executors.

John Audia, trading as the Superior Sand and Supply company, has issued a writ of attachment against Charles Benson, in which the sheriff is directed to attach any money due the defendant.

In the case of The Thayer company against the County of Lawrence, in which the defendant asked to have an amended statement of claim stricken from the record, and which was argued before Judge George Rowley of Mercer county, the court made an order granting a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why the petition should not be granted. Rule is returnable on November 11.

Sixty-nine instruments of all kinds were placed on record at the register and recorder's office last week. Of this number 33 were deeds and 23 were mortgages. Nineteen of the mortgages were given to building and loan associations two to banks and two to individuals. By far the greatest number of mortgages being placed on record recently have been to building and loan associations.

Population of the county home has decreased during the past summer there being only about 130 inmates of the home at present. It is expected that the number will increase from now on until spring. During the summer months some of the inmates go to live with friends.

County commissioners will sit as a board of tax revision somewhat earlier this year, beginning on December 1, with Big Beaver, Hickory, Little Beaver and Mahoning townships. As the triennial assessments are being made this year, it is expected that the board will hear plenty of complaints.

Under the will of the late Susanna J. Houk of Ellwood City, which has been admitted to probate, firemen and police will receive pensions at a certain age. They contribute to those funds.

City council awarded contracts yesterday for the city's winter supply of coal. The coal must be delivered in the city bins. In years gone by the coal used by the city was furnished by different dealers. Under the new plan one firm will furnish two-inch screen and another firm provide the slack.

Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, in reply to a question put by Councilman J. Leon Flink during council Monday said he had not yet secured any gasoline bids. Alexander said the city can take no action to change the present system until January, November and December gas already having been arranged for. It was suggested by Mayor Charles E. McGrath a few weeks ago that instead of the city buying large lots and storing the gas in pump tanks, that a saving might be affected if trucks and motor cars were to get their fuel at different service stations.

Council has not taken any action to award a contract for approximately $300 worth of incandescent lights. Should the company from whom the bulbs are to be purchased allow a discount the business will be divided among local firms handling their products.

Although a hot election is under way today politics have seldom been discussed in city hall. Persons cloaked with the protection of civil service are not permitted to mix in politics. However, it has not been necessary in city hall for any official to remind any employee of this.

Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, William G. Cobau, today stated that council has the option of appropriating either one-half or one per cent of all monies collected from taxes here for the police pension fund. When the 1936 budget was compiled council set aside about $2,200 to place in the fund. Police will make a contribution each month to the fund. Receipts, less expenses, from their ball Thanksgiving night, also will go into the fund. The pension system becomes effective in January.

Curb has been set back and rounded off at North and North Mill street. WPA workers now are working in North street west toward North Mercer street.... THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CURBING HIGH TEMPER

"MY DEAR DR. MYERS: The behavior of my two children has been very little cause for anxiety. There is, however, one cloud on my horizon. My six-year-old daughter will occasionally work herself into a state of extreme tension—I might almost say a fit—when faced by the necessity of going through an unpleasant ordeal—such as a shampoo, dose of medicine, or an enema....

"She stages these scenes, of course, to try to persuade me to abandon the matter at hand. I have never given in to her. When she begins to work herself up I take a firm attitude and explain why it is necessary for me to do what I am about to do. My breath is wasted. She stiffens herself and begins to scream, I spank. She holds her breath. My calm deserts me and I spank again—harder. Finally by main force I finish the task. It leaves us both shaken and exhausted. I try to calm her down by reading to her, rocking her or anything else that seems to divert her attention and bring about a happy state of mind.

"Then I go off by myself and hide in shame because I have lost my temper and abused the child.... I suffer in shame and chagrin for days after one of these encounters."

Many a parent faces problems not unlike yours. Since you carry the matter through anyway (by force) as you probably should, why wait until the rage is high? Why not act at once? Why explain or coax? She clearly knows the reason. You are not fit then to reason, anyway; nor is she.

Next time, in such an instance, have everything ready and someone on hand to help you. Very quietly, in the fewest possible words, announce what is to be done and, with the assistant's aid, do the stunt with the greatest possible skill and dispatch. No occasion for spanking.

After the affair has ended, reading a story, or even presenting a small gift, might be desirable. Don't promise these pleasures; merely have them follow the unpleasant task, regardless of how she acted, the purpose being to reduce future resistance through the influence of the pleasure which followed the last experience. By and by she will say, "You need not hold me." Your success will depend on how well you can hold your tongue and how matter-of-fact you can be.

Union Services On Thanksgiving

Four Community Services
Will Be Arranged By
Pastors Of City

PLANS MADE AT MEETING MONDAY

The matter of the annual Thanksgiving services was discussed by the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church on Monday and it was decided that the same plan as last year would be followed. That is, there will be four community services, to be arranged by the respective pastors of the districts. Services will be held in Mahoningtown with the churches there uniting. There will be services on the South Side and details will be announced later. On the East Side the same plan will be followed as has been worked out in other years. The other community service will be held in the downtown district and will include the down-town and North Hill churches.

Dr. George Presides

Dr. C. K. McGeorge, the president, was in charge of yesterday's meeting.

Devotions were conducted, with Rev. Paul Tau reading the scripture and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer led in prayer.

The next meeting will be held on November 16, with program to be announced later.

October Shows Excess Of Rain

Temperature Also Above Normal, Summary Of Weather For Month Reveals

Figures compiled by United States Weather Observatory B. F. Johnson, reveal that October had an excess of eight-tenths of a degree in temperature per day, and an excess of 1.0 inches in precipitation.

The mean maximum temperature for October was 62.6 degrees, this month minimum, 42.6 degrees, and the mean or average daily temperature, 53.1 degrees. The highest temperature was 81 degrees on the 10th, and the lowest was 33 degrees on the 28th. The greatest daily range was 34 degrees on the 4th.

The total precipitation for the month was 4.67 inches, the greatest in 24 hours being 1.84 inches on the tenth. Days with .01 or more inches were 19. There were 10 clear days, partly cloudy, and seven cloudy.

The normal temperature for October is 52.3 degrees and the normal precipitation is 2.72 inches.

In October of 1935, the precipitation was .36 inches below the normal, and the temperature, six-tenths of a degree above the normal. The highest temperature was 85 degrees, and the lowest 27 degrees.

All the speakers brought into the discussion some of the principles the denominations were founded upon.

Revs. Guthrie and Yeates made remarks.

The meeting came to a close with Dr. C. B. Wingerd pronouncing the benediction.

The next meeting will be held on November 16, with program to be announced later.

Two Deputy Sheriffs At Polling Places

For the first time in the history of the county the sheriff appointed deputies to look after the two election precincts in Hickory township. J. L. Cummings was appointed in the first precinct and A. C. Cameron in the second. The appointments were necessary owing to the condition of Constable William J. Graham, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident, and unable to make appointment of deputies. Judge Chambers looked through the election laws, but was unable to find a precedent. He then asked the sheriff to appoint deputies, which was done.

MEETING POSTPONED

The regular meeting of the B. W. club scheduled to meet this evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. McCombs on West Clayton street has been postponed until November 10. Mrs. E. M. Johnston will be the co-hostess at that date.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET

Members of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Mahoning M. E. church will meet this evening.

Union Services On Thanksgiving

Four Community Services
Will Be Arranged By
Pastors Of City

PLANS MADE AT MEETING MONDAY

The matter of the annual Thanksgiving services was discussed by the New Castle Ministerial Association in the First Presbyterian church on Monday and it was decided that the same plan as last year would be followed. That is, there will be four community services, to be arranged by the respective pastors of the districts. Services will be held in Mahoningtown with the churches there uniting. There will be service on the South Side and details will be announced later. On the East Side the same plan will be followed as has been worked out in other years. The other community service will be held in the downtown district and will include the down-town and North Hill churches.

Dr. George Presides

Dr. C. K. McGroarty, the president, was in charge of yesterday's meeting.

Deviotions were conducted, with Rev. Paul Tau reading the scripture and Rev. Thomas B. Shearer led in prayer.

A note of thanks from Rev. Rees T. Williams for the expression of sympathy sent to him on the event of his wife's death was read and a motion was passed that the occasion be recorded on the minutes of the association.

The secretary was instructed to

Origins Of Demonstrations

The order of the day was called for and Dr. McGroarty asked Rev. Chester T. R. Yeates, chairman of the program committee to present the program.

Rev. Yeates introduced Rev. James M. Guthrie who served as chairman of the Round-Table discussion. The subject under discussion was, "The Origins of the Denominations."

Rev. Paul J. Tau spoke for the Lutheran church, stating that Luther was the founder of the Protestant movement, about the year 1417.

Rev. D. C. Schnebly spoke for the Presbyterian church, giving many of the basic doctrines of the church as outlined by John Calvin in 1559.

Rev. C. H. Heaton in speaking for the Baptist church said the beginning of his church in America went back to the time of Roger Williams in 1639.

Rev. N. A. White in speaking for the Methodist church said his church went back to the time of John Wesley in 1738. And they were called Methodists in derision.

Rev. T. B. Shearer spoke of the beginnings of the Christian denomination and went back to the days of the Campbells about 1800.

Rev. McGroarty spoke for the United Presbyterians and said they were the baby among the denominations as they only began in 1855.

All the speakers brought into the discussion some of the principles the denominations were founded upon.

Rev. Guthrie and Yeates made closing remarks.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN COST NEARLY $20,000,000

Estimates On Cost Are Made

Both Major Parties Spend Millions In Campaign To Elect President

FINAL REPORTS TO BE MADE SOON

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The national campaign has cost political parties and candidates approximately $20,000,000, it was estimated today.

The latest reports of the national political organizations, filed with the clerk of the house, showed that approximately $12,000,000 was spent during the year until five days before the election.

Expenditures during the last five days, it is estimated, would increase the total to $15,000,000.

Another $5,000,000, political observers estimate, was spent by state organizations and individual candidates.

Some Reports

The Republican national campaign, up to five days before election, entailed an expenditure by the national committee and allied senatorial and congressional organizations of $7,477,709, while the Democratic expenditures, together with unpaid bills, amounted to approximately $4,000,000.

The Union party conducted its campaign, according to its latest report, on a budget of $59,612, but the National Union of Social Justice, headed by the Rev. Charles E.oughlin, spent $575,000 during the year.

The American Liberty League's expenditures, including the state organizations, approximated $500,000.

The only national organization reputedly engaged in the campaign which failed to file a report with the clerk of the house under the corrupt practices act was the Townsend Old-Age Pension organization. While information reached the clerk at one time that a report would be filed, it failed to arrive.

Clemmore School Nearly Completed

School Building In Neshannock Township Being Modernized

Two months work remains at the Clemmore school project in Neshannock township, where the Works Progress Administration is modernizing one two-room school building and a one-room structure which adjoins it. J. Vale Downie, district director, declared today.

Except for a small amount of painting, the interiors have been completely remodeled and children are attending classes. The interiors were completed at the beginning of the term.

The project called for the complete renovation of the buildings with new foundations, stone veneer exterior, new roofing, new flooring, renovation of the heating system, the installation of new metal laths and the plastering of walls.

The one-room structure was raised to the level of the other building and a cellar was excavated. To date the project is 90 per cent complete. The stone work is to be finished, a hallway is being built and murals are to be painted on the school room walls.

About 50 men will have been given employment for seven and a half months when the project is completed.

Assign Sigler As Motorcycle 'Cop'

Autoists Who Drive Recklessly To Receive Tag

Patrolman George Sigler, recently returned from a training course at the Hershey school of the state police, has been assigned as motorcycle patrolman, Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated today.

He said that the motorcycle would be in operation at various times of the day and night.

"The motorcycle patrolman is going out on the streets to make them safe," Mayor McGrath stated.

The mayor said that assignment of Sigler to the cycle does not mean a campaign is planned.

"However, those who persist in reckless driving and speeding can rest assured the streets are going to be safe for other drivers," the mayor declared.

Boy Keeps Busy While In Hospital

Despite the fact that he was on his back for three months in the New Castle hospital, suffering with an infection of the right hip bone, Charles Martin, aged about 14, of 414 Electric street, made good use of his time.

The young man, who talented with his hands, constructed several articles that have been admired by an unusually large number of persons. On display in the window of the South Side branch of the New Castle Free Library, South Main street, are three clever articles which the boy made. An attractive toy airplane, belt and knife carrier, have caught the eyes of countless passersby. These items were constructed during the youth's convalescing days. Charles has recovered sufficiently to return to his home and is reported showing daily improvement. He is a Boy Scout member of Troop 53.

State Capital Vote Is Heavy

Former Turnouts At Polls Being Eclipsed By Ballotting Today

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 3.—Voting in the State capital during the first few hours today was two and three times as heavy as in the same period in previous years, party observers at the city's polling places reported.

Interest was high, although, except for an argument in one precinct over posting of a Landon picture near the polling place, no disturbances were recorded.

Much straight party voting was evident in the speed with which electors passed through the polling places.

In districts where voting machines were in use, many persons took less than a minute to cast their vote.

Cloudy weather, clearing slightly as the day advanced toward noon, prevailed. Weather bureau officials said the daylight hours might pass without rain but predicted rain, turning to snow late tonight.

Huge Vote In Philadelphia

Early Rush To Polls Is Reported—Some Precincts Swamped

MAY CAST 850,000 BALLOTS IN CITY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Protesting a record-breaking vote, Philadelphians swamped polling places today in the heaviest early rush of voters in the history of the city.

Democratic and Republican workers alike claimed their candidates had run up majorities during the first four hours of balloting, but from remarks made by the voters and the campaign buttons they wore, it was evident the balloting was close, especially between President Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon.

Several minor disturbances were reported, half a dozen arrests were made and warrants were issued for the arrests of a Republican workers and an election judge after state Senator Harry Sharp reported election officers had been ousted from a polling place by Republicans.

Although the day was cloudy, there was no rain in the forenoon, and the surge of voters indicated the total Philadelphia vote might pass $50,000, which would be within 12 per cent of the city's registration of 952,000. In the enrollment, Republicans hold a lead of 108,000 over the Democrats.

Edwin R. Cox, chairman of the Republican city committee, reiterated his claim Gov. Landon will carry the city by 125,000, while John B. Kelly, Democratic city chairman, insisted the President would garner a 50,000 plurality. Commenting on Cox's prediction, Kelly said:

"He can cut the majority he claims in half and I bet any amount at any odds he names that he is still wrong."

BROOKVILLE, Pa., Nov. 3.—John Becker, 37-year-old night watchman on trial for his life in connection with the brutal slaying on April 10 of Miss Katherine Bracken, signal tower operator, was vigorously cross-examined today by Alex Scobie, special prosecutor, who attempted to prove by his questioning that Becker's repudiation of his alleged confession was at wide variance with his original statement.

On April 26, Becker was reported by police to have voluntarily admitted the crime in a detailed confession. Later, the suspect gave another statement to police, setting forth in gruesome detail how he had bashed Miss Bracken over the head with an ink-stand when she refused his advances in her lonely tower, slashed her with a pocket knife, and thrown her body over an embankment.

From the witness stand, Becker categorically denied efforts would be made to show Becker's "confession" was obtained under "third degree" police methods.

Huge Vote In Philadelphia

Early Rush To Polls Is Reported—Some Precincts Swamped

MAY CAST 850,000 BALLOTS IN CITY

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—Presaging a record-breaking vote, Philadelphians swamped polling places today in the heaviest early rush of voters in the history of the city.

Democratic and Republican workers alike claimed their candidates had run up majorities during the first four hours of balloting, but from remarks made by the voters and the campaign buttons they wore, it was evident the balloting was close, especially between President Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon.

Several minor disturbances were reported, half a dozen arrests were made and warrants were issued for the arrests of a Republican workers and an election judge after state Senator Harry Shimpire reported election officers had been ousted from a polling place by Republicans.

Although the day was cloudy, there was no rain in the forenoon, and the sum of voters indicated the total Philadelphia vote might pass 850,000, which would be within 12 per cent of the city's registration of 952,000. In the enrollment, Republicans held a lead of 108,000 over the Democrats.

Gov. Landon was an early voter in his home precinct in Independence, (Kas.) He dropped his ballot in the box before 9 a. m.

Edwin R. Cox, chairman of the Republican city committee, reiterated his claim Gov. Landon will carry the city by 120,000, while John B. Kelly, Democratic city chairman, insisted the President would garner a 50,000 plurality. Commenting on Cox's prediction, Kelly said:

"He can cut the majority he claims in half and I'll bet any amount at any odds he names that he is still wrong."

Heavy Voting Being Reported Throughout Nation; Despite Weather

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Unusually heavy voting in every section of the country was reported today as an estimated army of more than 45,000,000 citizens marched to the polls to decide the most intense presidential election in many years.

The balloting, save in the deep south, was conducted for the most part under cloudy skies, with squalls of rain, flurries of snow, and steadily falling temperatures that heralded the beginning of winter.

President Roosevelt and Gov. Alfred M. Landon followed up their radio appeals to the country to vote by themselves setting an early example. Mr. Roosevelt voted before noon in Hyde Park (N. Y.) town hall, accompanied by members of his family. "For luck" the president wore a heavy gold watch chain that once belonged to Andrew Jackson.

Gov. Landon was an early voter in his home precinct in Independence, (Kas.) He dropped his ballot in the box before 9 a. m.

Becker Undergoes Severe Grilling

Trial Of Night Watchman For Death Of Katherine Bracken, Is Nearly Finished

(International News Service)

BROCKVILLE, Pa., Nov. 3.—John Becker, 37-year-old night watchman on trial for his life in connection with the brutal slaying on April 10 of Miss Katherine Bracken, signal tower operator, was vigorously cross-examined today by Alex Scribner, special prosecutor, who attempted to prove by his questioning that Becker's repudiation of his alleged confession was at wide variance with his original statements.

On April 28, Becker was reported by police to have voluntarily ad-mited the crime in a detailed confession. Later, the suspect gave another statement to police, setting forth in gruesome detail how he had bashed Miss Bracken over the head with an ink-stand when she refused his advances in her lonely tower, slashed her with a pocket knife, and thrown her body over an embankment.

From the witness stand, Becker categorically denied efforts would be made to show Becker's "confession" was obtained under "third degree" police method.

Both prosecution and defense indicated they looked for completion of the trial today, the seventh day of testimony.

Brakeman's Death Results In Four Boys Being Held

Youths In Washington County Admit Firing Of Rifles Haphazardly, Brakeman Killed

International News Service

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 3.—Badly frightened, four young boys were held for an inquest today in connection with the death of Howard Leyshon, 40-year-old Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman, who was shot through the heart Saturday under mysterious circumstances.

Leyshon, father of four children, was riding atop a moving coal car when, according to C. E. Luellen, a friend who was on the car with him, he gasped: "My God, I'm shot!"

Four Boys Held

Then he crumpled and fell from the car, his friend said. Luellen jumped to the ground, found Leyshon dead, and called police.

The four boys held were Clyde Davidson, 17; Charles Sasek, 13; Newton Jeffers, 12; and Charles Bleiter, 14. All admitted, according to Chief County Detective H. J. Powell, that they had been aimlessly shooting at 22nd Street near the railroad tracks. They said they had separated and fled after seeing a crowd gather at the freight car and hearing of Leyshon's death. The youths were quoted by Powell as saying they had been hunting skunks, and started to fire their guns haphazardly when they couldn't find any.

Coen Warns Hunters That Shooting Will Not Be Permitted Before 9 A. M.

Lawrence County hunters are warned that they will not be permitted to hunt before 9 a. m. on the opening day of the season, Friday, November 6, by Game Warden Frank L. Coen, and Coen and his deputies intend to see that the texture of the law is rigidly respected.

Anyone found hunting before 9 o'clock on the morning of the opening day will be halted before a Justice of the peace or alderman and fined $25 and costs.

Coot hunters are also warned that they cannot hunt raccoon until one hour before sunset on Friday. The law specifies the opening date as November 6, one hour before sunset, and does not mean that hunters can go out after midnight on November 5.

P. R. R. Pensions Doyle, Employee For Half Century

After serving the Pennsylvania railroad for more than half a century, a well known seventh ward locomotive engineer, Thomas J. Doyle, had joined the company's pension "roll of honor" today.

Doyle was the only Erie & Ashland division veteran among the scores of Pennsylvania men to be retired this month.

Division headquarters of the Pennsylvania today praised Mr. Doyle's service record, one covering a period of 50 years and 11 months.

He resides at 112 West Cherry street.

mer-long campaign over the radio by pointing out late last night that 50,000,000 citizens were entitled to vote today. Expressing the hope they exercise their franchise, regardless of party affiliation, he reminded his fireside audience:

"And when you go to the ballot box tomorrow do not be afraid to vote as you think best for the kind of a world you want to have. There need be no strings on any of us in the polling place."

Ballot Secret

"A man or woman in the polling booth is his or her own boss. There once was a time when the ballot was not secret. That is not so today. How a citizen votes is the citizen's own business. No one will fire you because you vote contrary to his wishes or instructions."

"One will know how you vote. And don't let anyone intimidate you or coerce you by telling you otherwise. In the polling booth we are all equals."

Significantly, however, Mr. Roosevelt ended his radio talk with a quotation from Theodore Roosevelt, which ran as follows:

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbled, or where the door of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs and comes short again; who knows the great enthusiasm, the great devotions, and spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumphs of high achievement; and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly; so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither defeat nor victory."

In Same Voting Place

The Presidential group was voting today in the same wooden town hall where Mr. Roosevelt has been voting for years.

Shortly before he went on the air, Mr. Roosevelt motored down from Hyde Park to Poughkeepsie, where the temporary executive offices are located, and received a rather surprising reception in the county seat of his normally Republican home-town county.

Despite 10,000 drizzling rain, approximately 10,000 people packed themselves solidly into the entire block fronting on the hotel balcony from which the President spoke and gave him an enthusiastic welcome.

Earlier yesterday the President had taken his customary pre-election tour through Dutchess, Orange and Ulster counties, making four very informal speeches and waving at comparatively small crowds.

Last night, however, upon seeing Poughkeepsie's unexpected turnout, Mr. Roosevelt expanded on his Hudson valley informality. One paragraph of his extemporaneous speech outlined his whole philosophy of government.

"We cannot reach a millennium or Utopia in any four years, or eight years, but at least I have felt that people in responsible positions ought to start the ball rolling, that they ought to make an effort, through legislation and through public opinion, in a perfectly normal, sane, sensible way, to provide security—security for themselves so they would not individually worry—securely for their families, security for their homes and a greater security for their jobs, and, incidentally, a greater security for the people who employ them," the President said.

Hunters are also warned that they cannot hunt raccoon until one hour before sunset on Friday. The law specifies the opening date as November 6, one hour before sunset, and does not mean that hunters can go out after midnight on November 5.

appeals to the nation, in which there was no rancher, no accusations, no claims, only a fervent appeal to the voters to vote. The passion of campaign speeches was put behind them.

Barring landslides, such as the country has witnessed in the last four presidential elections—Harding in '29, Coolidge in '32, Hoover in '32, and Roosevelt in '36—it is likely that the outcome of the election will be slower than usual in reaching the public.

New York Votes To 9 P. M.

Due to the greatly increased registration—15,000,000 more registered than voted four years ago—some states have lengthened the hours of polling. In New York, for example, an additional three hours have been given the voters to cast their ballots, the booths not closing until 9 p. m. (EST). In other years, the outcome in New York has been fairly well known by that hour.

A relatively close popular vote in many states, especially the larger states like Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, would tend to further delay determination of the electoral vote.

And while the managers on both sides militantly assert their claims to the electoral votes, they generally concede that the popular vote in many key and important states probably will be close. This will operate to delay concessions on either side. So long as the popular vote is close, neither side will be inclined to do any conceding.

Crucial State

New York, with its 47 electoral votes, and the home state of Mr. Roosevelt, was the cynosure of the nation's eyes. New York is important to both candidates. But to the Republicans, New York is almost vital. Some days ago, Chairman Hamilton conceded that it would be difficult if not impossible to conceive a Landon victory without the great bloc of 47 votes from the Empire State. The Democrats can win without New York—they did it in 1916—but the loss of New York would greatly jar their confidence and endanger their chances, for a Republican victory probably would be symptomatic of the vote in other populous centers.

More is at stake in this election than simply the presidency.

Control of congress and the political complexion of 33 states governments is at stake as well in today's balloting, as well as literally thousands of minor city, county and state offices.

Entire House To Be Named

The entire house of representatives, 435 members, less the three already elected in Maine, is hanging in the balance, as well as 35 of the 96 seats in the senate. Thirty-three states will elect governors. In some states, the contests are so bitter over these lesser offices that the presidential race has to share the popular interest.

Republicans gains are generally expected in the house, which has been overwhelmingly Democratic for six years, while few believe the Republicans can actually win control. The opinion is general that the Republicans will pick up fifty or more seats. The senate will remain Democratic irrespective of how the election goes today. The present Democratic majority in the senate is so great, and such a percentage of solid south Democrats are running for certain reelection that the Republicans cannot hope to win there.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TOWN MAKES FIRST ELECTION REPORT

the presidential election was lost to day.

Millsfield Township, which has existed since Revolutionary days came in first.

The vote was: Landon, 5; Roosevelt, 2.

Hearing that voters of New Ashford planned to get out of their beds at 5 a. m. to vote, the electorate of Millsfield township decided to vote at 3 a. m.

Then township clerk Gertrude C. Nandik gave a party for all the voters, and the voting began shortly after midnight.

Second Town In

New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 3.—Second town in the nation to report, New Ashford in the Berkshire hills, today gave Governor Alfred M. Landon 20 votes to 19 for President Roosevelt (D).

A 100 per cent win was cast.

In the hot fight for U. S. senator, G. O. P. candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., polled 24 as against 20 for Gov. James M. Curley, Democrat, one for Thomas C. O'Brien, Union party, and one for Alonzo B. Cook, Independent.

Third To Report

Tolland, Mass., Nov. 3.—Pulling a surprise, this little town on the Massachusetts-Connecticut border today became the third in the nation to report in the 1936 presidential election, giving Governor Landon 4 votes to 21 for President Roosevelt.

The vote was an upset for the Democrats. Despite an increased number of votes over the 1932 election, President Roosevelt polled one very easily made. He was given credentials to vote.

In some cases it was found that election boards, in their hurry in going over the names, had overlooked the name of the complainant. In other cases it was found that there had been differences in spelling of names. Nearly all of those who came to the office had their troubles satisfactorily adjusted. A duplicate set of registrations is kept at the registration bureau and it was no trouble to find out just what was the matter in each case.

Report Promise Of Wage Increase

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Collective bargaining representatives of 20,000 employees of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation announced today they had been promised a wage increase by the management.

Although at first denying the truth of the workers' announcement, the corporation subsequently issued a statement setting forth that the outcome of negotiations between employees and the corporation "will not be known for several days." The corporation statement, however, did not deny the assertion of W. H. Turner, leader of the employee representatives, that he had been given permission by J. B. Mitchell, personnel official of Jones and Laughlin, to inform workers in the corporation's mills of the impending pay boost.

Turner said Mitchell did not say how much the increase would be, and told him it would be "several days" before any estimate could be made.

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—As spreading strikes tied-up 91 ships along the eastern seaboard today, a show-down in the long battle between the striking seaman's defense committee and the International Seaman's Union which has branded the strike as "outlaw," drew rapidly nearer.

Plans to man strike ships with members of the I. S. U., which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, have been completed, David Grange, third vice president, announced, and the move to smash the strike will begin tomorrow.

Bitter over the attitude of the union as well as the ship owners, Joseph Curran, leader of the defense committee, warned:

"I foresee violence and plenty of it. I charge that the ship owners are trying to stir up real trouble."

Grange's rejoinder was: "We'll take Curran like Grant took Richmond."

Barring landslides, such as the country has witnessed in the last four presidential elections—Harding in '20, Coolidge in '24, Hoover in '28, and Roosevelt in '32—it is likely that the outcome of the election will be slower than usual in reaching the public.

New York Votes To 9 P. M.

Due to the greatly increased registration—15,000,000 more registered than voted four years ago—some states have lengthened the hours of polling. In New York, for example, an additional three hours have been given the voters to cast their ballots, the booths not closing until 9 p. m. (EST). In other years, the outcome in New York has been fairly well known by that hour.

A relatively close popular vote in many states, especially the larger states like Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, would tend to further delay determination of the electoral vote. And while the managers on both sides militantly assert their claims to the electoral votes, they generally concede that the popular vote in many key and important states probably will be close. This will operate to delay concessions on either side. So long as the popular vote is close, neither side will be inclined to do any conceding.

Crucial State

New York, with its 47 electoral votes, and the home state of Mr. Roosevelt, was the cynosure of the nation's eyes. New York is important to both candidates. But to the Republicans, New York is almost vital. Some days ago, Chairman Hamilton conceded that it would be difficult if not impossible to conceive a Landon victory without the great bloc of 47 votes from the Empire State. The Democrats can win without New York—they did it in 1916—but the loss of New York would greatly jar their confidence and endanger their chances, for a Republican victory probably would be symptomatic of the vote in other populous centers.

More is at stake in this election than simply the presidency.

Control of congress and the political complexion of 33 states governments is at stake as well in today's balloting, as well as literally thousands of minor city, county and state offices.

Entire House To Be Named

The entire house of representatives, 435 members, less the three already elected in Maine, is hanging in the balance, as well as 35 of the 96 seats in the senate. Thirty-three states will elect governors. In some states, the contests are so bitter over these lesser offices that the presidential race has to share the popular interest.

Republican gains are generally expected in the house, which has been overwhelmingly Democratic for six years, while few believe the Republicans can actually win control, the opinion is general that the Republicans will pick up fifty or more seats. The senate will remain Democratic irrespective of how the election goes today. The present Democratic majority in the senate is so great, and such a percentage of solid south Democrats are running for certain reelection that the Republicans cannot hope to win there.

NOT that we want to alarm you, but a lot of persons who are all right today will wake up tomorrow in the hospital—the victim of an accident.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Madness lurks just below the surface of the crowds and there are days when it boils up and you get the distinct impression that this is Wonderland and the shark may be encountered on any sunny corner.

For instance, take this reporter's yesterday. In the early morning I had an appointment to meet a man in the lobby of the Waldorf. The taxi driver I hailed immediately turned downtown at 42nd and Fifth Avenue.

"Hey! The Waldorf's at 49th and Park Avenue!" I yelled.

"No, it isn't, sir." The Waldorf's at 34th and Fifth."

"All right. Then I don't want to go to the Waldorf. Take me to 49th and Park. There's just a chance the hotel may be there."

He complied, albeit reluctantly. And on the way I discovered the man actually didn't know that the old Waldorf had been torn down years ago and the Empire State Building erected on the site. He was a driver from Brooklyn and revealed he hadn't been across the river in fourteen years until that morning.

Later at home I learned over the house phone that the representative of a typewriter company was calling. He wished to assure himself, on behalf of his firm, that I was satisfied with the rattle recently purchased for this trapping.

That was nice. But when the man appeared he sat down at my mill and began to tinker, pointing out various advantages in a sort of sales-talk monotone. Immediately I got the impression that he didn't know very much about the machine. "Here's a piece of paper," I suggested. "You can test it better with something to write on."

"Oh, I don't typewrite," he beamed. "Just never got the knack of the darn thing."

While musing on this strange occurrence, I turned on the radio and the dulcet voice of a lady politician floated out. I find political speeches the perfect anodyne for jangled nerves. You can listen to them without the slightest impediment of thought; for insomnia they beat hot milk or counting sheep. But this lady, after a long and scathing denunciation of one candidate, got mixed in her final paragraph and advised her hearers strongly to vote for him!

So I saw that radio was no escape mechanism for those fleeing jitters. I was on the point of reaching for the hard, sanc verbiage of my Britannica when the phone rang. "Is this the New York Life Insurance Company?" a man's voice demanded.

I told him he had the wrong number.

"Then this isn't New York life?" "No."

"Fine. I have got them several times when trying to call you. This is the butcher and will you please ask Mrs. Aswell whether she wants the meat delivered this afternoon?"

No sooner was the receiver on the hook than the front doorbell rang. The handyman stood outside, hat in hand.

"Would you mind seeing to your turtle?" he inquired.

"What's the matter with our turtle?" He is usually the most well-behaved of pets and stays quietly under the terrace swing. But of course I had no assurance that he might not be potentially rabid.

"The lady in the apartment over yours has been watching the turtle from her window. You see the turtle's on its back and she can't do her housework for wondering whether he'll be able to turn over. Interferes with her work."

"Work?" I mumbled shrilly, entering into the mood of the town. "Who wants to work in an asylum? I'm going out and watch the turtle myself."

Is Ill At Her Home

Mrs. Sarah Howard, 90-year-old resident of McCleary avenue, has been confined to bed ever since suffering a slight stroke two weeks ago, and for the second time in her life, is under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Howard's mother lived until she was close to the century mark and her sister lived until 96. The McCleary avenue woman had been in excellent health until this illness.

The ladies of the V. F. W. auxiliary sent a shower of beautiful cards to her home; several days ago and Mrs. Howard has found much pleasure in looking them over.

Can New Castle Stop Streak Of Martins Ferry?

Ohioans Have Won Six Straight Games, Have Big Powerful Veteran Team

New Castle's "Red Hurricane" Underdogs In Battle This Coming Saturday

There is a big question mark at New Castle high school today. Can the "Red Hurricane" stop the six-straight game winning streak of the powerful Martins Ferry high eleven?

If you can answer this one, you are better than good. The sons of Pa News are going down to the Ohio River valley on Saturday to try and stop the mad rush of the "Ferries" toward an undefeated season, but at the moment the job looks altogether too big for the New Castle cripples.

Many Cripples

"Dude" Perrott is definitely out of the picture for this week and perhaps for the rest of the year. Did Mumford is still nursing his twisted knee and ankle and Nick Albert is still nursing his injured back. Brudenbaugh could use these three boys very nicely in the game this week.

Can New Castle halt this man "Johnny Bennett", the Martins Ferry high triple-threat man. He is reported to be almost a whole back-field in himself. Warren had a tough time trying to throttle this youngster. He can throw passes like Dizzy Dean does a baseball, and with a water-loosed ball like it was for the Warren game, he made the pigskin do tricks aplenty.

Martins Ferry Good

To quote Head Coach Phil Brudenbaugh who has seen the "Purple Riders" play two or three games this year, New Castle will be on the losing end by two or three touchdowns.

The Martin's Ferry high team is just about as good a high school team as Massillon and in some respects better, and there is hardly any hope of New Castle taking over the "Ohioans", was the way Brudenbaugh put it.

You can say for me though, that the eleven men that I start at Martins Ferry will be eleven of the tightest bags that I have on the squad. It will take lots of fight and the proper spirit to make a good showing against the big Martins Ferry team."

New Castle Outweighed

The Ohioans will outweigh New

Castle about eight pounds per man. This is quite a weight advantage. New Castle is hoping for a dry field, so that Charley Mort can get under way. Paul Small with a full big league game under his belt should be even better this week against the "Ferries".

The 25 to 0 victory over Warren, while New Castle could eke out but a 13 to 12 victory, is the shaping up basis for the game this week. The Martins Ferry boys are "pointing" for New Castle. The defeat last year of 25 to 18 must be avenged say the Ohio Riverites.

Keystones Hurl Grid Challenge At Wabash Team

The Keystone A. C. football team through its capable Rocco P. Viggiano, the publicity agent, asks that the Wabash Bears football team of the Seventh ward meet the "Keys" this coming Sunday at Rosena field.

Last year the "Keys" were the only team to upset the great Wabash Bears. The reason the Keystones are asking for the game at Rosena field is due to the fact that every other year the Keys play at Mahoningtown.

For a game with the Keystone A. C. eleven see any of the players or call 4151-M and ask for Rocco P. Viggiano.

Nonpareil Club Shoot Tonight

Members of the Nonpareil Rifle club will meet tonight for a practice shoot at the West Side range at 7:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by Karl Rohrer today.

The Nonpareils went to Niles, O., recently and lost to the McKinley Rifle club 925 to 890 in a Penn-OHIO Rifle League match. High score was held by Robert Baskett of Niles with 191, while Eckles of the Nonpareils had 190.

The results of the match: Nonpareils, Eckles 190, Lindsay 179, Barber 177, Karl Rohrer 176, Walter Adams 169-890.

Niles: Baskett 191, Cashott 186, Lester Welsh 186, George Potter 181, Ralph Johns 181-925.

Colaluca Eleven Tops Frisco, 19-13

Led by Hitchen and Myron, the Colaluca football team of the South Side, defeated the Frisco eleven, 19-13 in a fast game played before 1,000 spectators at Frisco.

Hitchen galloped over the Frisco goal line on two different occasions while Myron slipped over for the other touchdown. The South Siders want a game with the Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown.

No wonder neurotics exaggerate their ills. The longer they are sick, the worse symptoms it takes to get any sympathy.

Public Health Nursing One Of Red Cross Aids

Only One Of Many Valuable
Services Rendered To Citizens Of County

TRAIN WOMEN IN HOME NURSING

One of the many valuable aids rendered during the past year by the Lawrence County Chapter American Red Cross was the service of the public health nurse whose skill and knowledge was available when needed.

In addition to assisting families with the problem of sickness, the nurse instructed many women in the knowledge of what to do in an emergency when one is sick, and in better methods of home sanitation and habits.

She also assisted with four well-baby clinics throughout the county.

Mrs. David H. Kay, chairman of the nursing committee of the Chapter has the following to say in connection with the chapter's nursing program:

"The Red Cross Public Health Nurse was active in New Castle and in Lawrence county the past year. The nurse in gray with the emblematic black bag made 63½ visits on behalf of 109 sick persons in city and to rural homes. She assisted with four clinics for babies and instructed two classes of forty women in practical methods of caring for sick in the home, in better methods of home sanitation and health habits. Worthwhile? Want to help? This is just one of the essential Red Cross programs you will support by joining the Red Cross now through your local Chapter."

The annual Roll Call of the Chapter opens tomorrow when someone will visit your home and ask you to enroll in this great organization devoted to the relief of suffering.

Chairman Paul F. Butz, in commenting on the memberships which the Chapter receives, states that Life Memberships are no longer recognized by the National Red Cross. In the days following after the war, when funds for community needs were more readily available, those who gave a contribution to the Chapter of fifty dollars were considered to be life members and exempt from further giving. The further need for help from persons who are able to contribute sums such as these, is urgently needed at this time. No matter how large your contribution, only fifty cents of it goes to the National Red Cross.

The larger the contribution, the more it will help the local chapter in its work in the home community.

Only One Of Many Valuable
Services Rendered To
Citizens Of County

TRAIN WOMEN IN HOME NURSING

One of the many valuable aids rendered during the past year by the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, was the service of the public health nurse, whose skill and knowledge was available when needed.

She also assisted with four well-baby clinics throughout the county. Mrs. David H. Kay, chairman of the nursing committee of the Chapter has the following to say in connection with the chapter's nursing program:
